Rise up, rise up, And, as the trumpet blowing Chases the dreams of men, As the dawn glowing The stars that left unlit
 The land & water, Rise up and scatter The dew that covers The prints of last night's lovers — Scatter it, scatter it!

While you are listening To the clear horns, Forget, men, everything On this earth new born, Except that it is lovelier Than any mysteries. Open your eyes to the air That has washed the eyes of the stars. Through all the dewy night: Up with the light, To the old wars; Arise, arise!
